

Dear FCC:

Please do not abdicate your historic role and statutory responsibility, and do not eliminate the limitation on newspaper-television station cross-ownership. In a period of epidemic ownership consolidation, this rule is essential to preserve an echo of independence and local voice in an increasingly uniform media spectrum. Public interest in free media should trump narrow "free-market" ideology. Consider the marketplace of ideas, not just the market for media properties!

Eric Scigliano